

Substance Abuse Prevention Game:

- Designed for students in grades 5 thru 12
- Dispels myths concerning current illegal drugs and their use
- Utilizes thought-provoking/open-ended questions to stimulate discussion
- Addresses issues such as the pervasive effects of drug use
- Broadens students' understanding of the short and long term effects of drugs
- Encourages students to learn while having fun at the same time
- Students with the most points are given board games as prizes to encourage family interaction at home
- Every child is given a packet of detailed resource information
- KADU is modified and adapted to meet the development stage of students
- Facilitated by Remembering ADAM's Prevention Specialist

Areas of development addressed by KADU:

- Develops team skills
- Builds self-esteem as students are given success-oriented tasks to complete
- Improves communication skills
- Enriches student interaction skills
- Refines the ability to follow direction
- Gives opportunity to practice self-control
- Increase listening skills

A pre and post test is given to each student as a means to measure the degree of learning as a result of playing KADU. Remembering ADAM analyzes the tests along with the information provided by the students. A detailed written report is then sent back to the contact person identifying the strengths and weaknesses the students possess in the areas of substance abuse.
